August Newsletter

Marching Upward...

Come, we that love the Lord, and let our joys be known,

What a joy it is to report that we received more than $7,000 with our plea for funding for our new college bound graduates. We had enough donated to fund all six for one term. All but four students will continue to need funds for the next three terms. We are praying for God's grace and mercy. All six scholarship students are off to college this week. We wish them traveling mercies, God's blessing, and much joy.

Speaking of college students, Living Hope is proud to announce the fact that thirty-one of our seventy-some high school graduates are now enrolled in college or trade school. Is this a miracle or what? God's mercy is given through your hands.

Join in a song of sweet accord,

We recently received an unexpected, generous donation towards the construction of the Healing Hut, our future building project. This building will house six convalescent beds, a conference room, and space for mission teams to stay. Our newly received donation will cover almost half of the expense to design and build this wonderful addition to our campus. It will probably be the most attractive and multi-functional building at Living Hope. We can't thank this anonymous donor enough! When Marilyn visits in October, she will be bringing the architect sketches of what the Healing Hut will look like. We will publish the drawings as soon as we get them.

And thus surround the throne,

Next summer, one of our graduating seniors, Ivan Chetembe, will be coming to West Virginia and speaking at churches and West Virginia Annual Conference. This young man is an excellent preacher, a fine song leader, and can lead us in fervent prayer and rejoicing. I don't know that I can remember a time when a Methodist student from an African Conference has spoken at our Conference. What a privilege this will be for Living Hope and Ivan. Please make plans to attend next year's Conference and if you would like Ivan to speak to your Charge, please be making arrangements and contacting Helen. He'll be here the whole month of June 2017. What a joyful spiritual experience this will be!

Children of the heavenly King, may speak their joys abroad,

Please keep a constant eye on our Facebook page, if you use Facebook, we update it almost every week with the latest news of things going on at Living Hope. Also, keep a constant check on our website, livinghopehighschool.org There you'll find our stories about history and miracles at Living Hope, which are posted every month. Our newest video is on the home page, take a look and see what our students do each day at Living Hope.

The hill of Zion yields a thousand sacred sweets,

We're marching to Zion, beautiful, beautiful Zion;

The final touches were put on the Science Building by our hard working students and graduates during break, in August. The Form Two room has a new floor, new plaster and a new blackboard. The Science Building has glass windows, and a new terrazzo floor. Our wooden storage cabinets are being built right now. We expect students to move in and use this new facility in the month of September. As soon as we get the drawings of the new Healing Hut, we will include them in the next newsletter. Letters from students just came in and will be sent out next week.
