

Charity Wafula-F3

My name is Charity Wafula. My birthday is 16th May 2006, turning 17 years in 16th May. I have both parents. Long ago before I was born, my mother was sent away just because she could not bear a daughter. She had two sons and so the community could not withstand that, they wanted a daughter as well, so my mother was sent away. This was against my dad's idea though. My mother moved to Kisumu but still they could meet with my dad at home away from home once in a while.

My Mother finally got pregnant and that was me in her womb and so she was now allowed back to her home after I was born. What a hustle for my mum! Eventually my father started micro business for her to sell home items. Through that, she took me to Nursery School then headed to Primary School. My father became all time drunkard then, so my mother could take care of us all single handedly since my father could leave early in the morning and come very late at night.

I scored 342 marks in my National exams; it was all about God and my hardworking mother all along. Thereafter I joined St. Mary's Kibuk girls' High School. I used to perform very well in my internal exams. Similarly I participated in Music Festivals until up to Regional. I wasn't allowed to proceed to national because I was position 4 and they wanted the First 3 positions. In addition to that, as the best Modeler in School, I won more than five crowns in talent shows.

Getting to form 2 was a hustle for my mum, now that she now has two kids in the University and me in High School; she had given up on everything including me! I am so happy to have been given a chance at Living Hope; I can see some hope of finishing School even if I'm just in form 3. I really want to focus on my studies very seriously to make my momma proud. I want to get a good grade that will thrive me to do a course of my dream.

Yours Sincerely

Charity Wafula
