

BRINAH NYONGESA

I, Brinah Nyongesa, was born on 26 January 2007 and I am the firstborn in our home. We are four children in our home. I have both, mom and dad. My dad is called Mr. Paul Wafula and my mother is Mrs. Violet Juma. They both live together, a true blessing. They are peasant farmers; growing beans, maize, and cassavas. The harvest is used as food in our home. Paying fees was a problem in primary school and our father could sell the little food we harvested to pay the needed fees. We could sleep on empty stomachs some days. This was a struggle every day.

Eventually, I was lucky to do my Kenya Certificate for Primary Education (KCPE) exam in 2020 and scored 351 marks. It was a miracle which I and my family are grateful to God for the success. I was to join high school and was happy about the transition. My worry was how we were going to raise the needed fees. My parents had gone through struggles paying my Primary School fees. Fees in high school were much higher than that paid in primary school. We had no way of paying the fees. I remained hopeless. My church pastor advised me to present every problem I encountered to God. I prayed to God who answered my prayers. Last month I joined Living Hope High School (LHHS). I was happy to join the school where the environment is quite interesting and cool. I like it a lot! It was by God's grace to get a chance of coming here. I thank Him for making ways for me.

In my primary school, I participated in the debate. I was an active member of the debate club. I could voice out my opinion without any fear. My opponents on the motion all feared challenging me. My English teacher, Madam Wanyonyi, liked me for my views. I also played leg ball during my free time. I worship and praise God every Sunday in our church. I sing praises to Him. I am hardworking and disciplined.

I dream of becoming a journalist in the future. I want to voice the views and opinions of the less privileged. I want to enlighten my society through my career. I want to earn much so that I support the needy in society. Journalism is a career that promises huge pay. I need good grades to study medicine at college. I believe I will achieve good grades but I cannot sail this journey alone. I need support. I will need all the help available for my success. I am writing to ask you to be my sponsor. Please be my sponsor.

I am waiting to hear from you anytime.

Yours sincerely,

Brinah Nyongesa.
