

LINUS WAFULA

I am Linus Wafula. I was born on April 27 2007. I am the seventh born in a family of twelve children. I am lucky to have both parents alive. The big problem is that I was born in a polygamous family. It was hard for us to have three meals a day at times because our father failed to provide for the two families under his care. I schooled in three different schools before doing Kenya Certificate for Primary Education (KCPE) national exam. I occasionally changed schools because my parents were unable to clear the fees arrears. I missed exams at times when my parents failed to pay fees at the required time. When other students were doing their exams, I was left at home looking after cattle.

I did KCPE exams in 2020. I scored 351 marks. This was a miracle and I thanked God for it. The big challenge after I got my results was how I was going to join high school. My hope was only in God for I had no other way out. My parents visited Living Hope High School (HHHS), a good-performing school near our home. The school is known because it operates in a unique way as compared to other schools around. I was happy when my parents came home that evening with the acceptance letter from the school.

In primary school, I participated in athletics to the County levels. I also represented my school in the inter-school competitions where I took part in football. My teachers loved me for the hard work I portrayed in both co-curriculum and academics. They motivated me to keep the spirit.

I am in Form one and still confused about what I want to become. I am thinking of being a doctor, maybe a teacher or an engineer. I will need some good guidance on what to focus on when the right time comes. I am also praying to God that he lights my path and leads me to the right way. He never fails that is why my hope is in Him. I need you to be my sponsor. Please help me be successful in life. I am looking forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely,

Linus Wafula.
