My name is Henry Mukhongo Juma. I was born in 2008. I am from Luuya Village in Bungoma County. I come from the family of 7th out of 9 kids. My father's name is Ferdnand Juma Chemiati while my mother's name is Annet Nekesa Juma.

I went to Luuya Primary up to class 5 then joined Com Academy. I moved out from Luuya primary because the population of students in class was large and so I wasn't getting enough attention from the teacher as I was expecting. It was very difficult for the teacher to reach where I was seated and many others too as well. Immediately I changed the school and I started performing very well. I started leading in class. I could receive presents every time we did the exam. I knew I would make it on the national exam and so that kept me going. I persisted on praying to God to help me out. Eventually when I sat for the national exam, I performed very well.

Immediately after the results were out, I applied to Living Hope. Indeed we do serve a God of possibilities, I was given a chance to be part of Living Hope Family. I can't take this opportunity for granted. Many people wanted this chance but they didn't get, I am the few who were chosen. I will work hard to get good grades so that there won't be time for regrets. I want to become a doctor when I grow up. I want to help the sick people by bringing hope back in their life. I want to be a good doctor who will love to serve without any biasness; I will attend to everyone equally and with respect.
