

Inviolata Marani.

My name is Inviolata Marani. I was born in October 22nd 2008. I was living with my both parents up to 3 years old when I was forced to move to another county because my parents did not agree on so many things that caused them to divorce. I have stayed with my mom alone from that time up to date. My mother really tried her best to take me to school. She tried hard to find school fees for me by washing people's clothes, tilling other people's farm and other casual jobs to provide items for me. Many times we could go without food and putting on one type of clothes week after the other. I was completely unable to continue with education since my mom did have money to keep me in school. I was hence sent home because I had not paid anything for 3 years. I had to move in to stay with my sister who live in Bungoma. Thank goodness she accepted to take me to another school and continued with education. I worked very hard and scored 354 marks out possible 500.

I like singing and dancing in church. My favorite hobby is playing with cards. My best subject is Mathematics and not my worst but somehow challenging subject is Physics. I play football and netball.

Choosing Living Hope High School was the best decision I ever made. The school provides quality education to the kids and every year many students qualify for University courses. I will also try my best to be among those who will work very hard and do the course of my choice when I graduate from High School.

When I grow up, I would like to be an Extension Officer. I am sure that with God it shall come to pass. I really need someone to stand in this gap to support me achieve this.