

Clinton Chebolo.

My Name is Clinton Chebolo. I was born in July 6th 2007. I come from Mahanga village in Bungoma County. I have two brothers and one sister. I take care of my siblings because I am the eldest brother and of course the elder, there are many challenges I have faced but thank God I have overcome all of them.

My favorite subject is mathematics. I used to score highly when I was in primary and even scored an A and became the best performer in our class. I don't perform well in English but I am trying my best to improve on it. My hobby is reading novels. Similarly, I take care of our small garden at home and of course I acquired skills from my father who spends every hour in his Garden.

I have a dream of becoming medical officer who will deal with medical and health matters of patient I am so blessed to be able to attend Living Hope High School, one of the best schools in the county. I am praying someone will want to sponsor me and make my dream come true of finishing High School.]
